Pirates Attempt to Plunder Elementary Christmas Program

By Maranda Evans
Staff Reporter

The Elementary Winter Concert was held on the evening of Monday, December 4th in the High School gym starting at 6:30. The concert consisted of grades K-5 singing Christmas carols while sixth graders put on a play on the stage.

The concert theme this year was "A Pirate Christmas". Mrs. Michele Kelley worked very hard putting together everything with the help of Mrs. Tammy Graham, Mrs. Lisa Craig, teachers, and parents. When Mrs. Kelley was asked about how she felt about the concert she stated, "The sixth graders really knocked it out of the park, and I couldn't be more proud of them! This musical was very challenging, and they definitely rose to the occasion. It takes a village to put on a production like this. Over 200 elementary students performed. Their parents acquired costuming. Teachers provided support and supervision. High school students acted as the technical and stage crews. Mrs. Graham and Mrs. Craig not only took care of administrative details, but also got elbow deep in working backstage... A show like this doesn't happen without those people. They are the reason this evening was so successful."

The Elementary Winter Concert had a great turn out. Good job to everyone who played a part in this night. We can't wait for next year's show!

By Brayden Hague

The school's annual holiday concert on Tuesday, December 5th showcased the talents of students across sixth to twelfth grade. Under the direction of Michele Kelley, the high school choir serenaded with "Riu, Rui, Chiu," where Jax Heyde, Zander Heyde, and Decker Heyde all had solos, "Nanita Lullaby," "Child of God," and a playful rendition of "I Want a Hippopotamus for Christmas." The choir consists of sopranos: Olivia Blessing, Avery Calhoun, Paige Campbell, Katlyn James, Delilah Libby, Kenzi Santa Cruz, Allie Schieber, Lindsay Sherman, Dani Van Draska, Jorjah Webster, Kiara Willoughby, and Paige Woods. The young band members are Noah Beggs and Carter Mattson on clarinet; Brantley Donovan on saxophone; Liam Wilson on trombone; Chandler Albright, Harlan Eckard, Caiden Jensen, and Grayson Wiederholt on percussion; and Gabriella Regalado on the bells.

Finally, the combined high school and junior high band surprised the audience with "Oh, What Fun!," "The Christmas Song," "The First Noel," and "The Chipmunk Song." Members of the band include Jaxon Baker and Jorjah Webster on flute; Charlotte Jennings and Trinity Regalado on clarinet; Jonathan Baker, Jude Spence, and Kiara Willoughby on saxophone; Ellie Dias, William Ellsworth, Evan Gregory, and Jax Heyde on the trumpet; Brayden Hague, Decker Heyde, and Konnor Keough on trombone; Brayden Hague and Lucian Simmerman on the tuba, and finally, Thor Cameron, Nate Giffin, Hudson Groomer, Cooper Spaulding, and Rylan Worley on percussion.

Both Mrs. Clements and band/choir member Decker Heyde praised the students' hard work. Mrs. Clements stated, "Their hard work and determination paid off through their playing." Decker joined in and said, "We sang and played our hearts out." The concert brought joy and holiday cheer to the entire school community, leaving a lasting impression with heartwarming harmonies.

Staff Reporter

This year's class of 2026 has kicked the year off strong, with a total of twenty-two students. They include Lindsey Hailey, Evan Gregory, William Ellsworth, Jaren Stoll, Katie Libby, Kenzi Santa Cruz, Lexi Rogers, Jorjah Webster, Hayden Swan, Russell Kerwin, Miley Davis, Eva Cameron, Ally Santa Cruz, Izzy Wilson, Brayden Dias, Macie Gibson, Nathan Taylor, Olivia Blessing, Vincent Smithson, Hannah McQuinn, and Dani Van Draska.

The students have adjusted to more difficult classes compared to their freshman year. Eva stated, "The most challenging part of this year has been the harder classes like geometry and also biology. I've also struggled with balancing my sports and school work."

This year so far, the sophomores have attended the DocuDrama where they saw a simulated car crash, and listened to speeches from various people. Sophomore FFA students also went to Hundley Whaley where they learned more about farming and agriculture. Those who are in organizations have also been able to go on field trips and area meetings, like the FBLA field trip where they went ice skating and to Ricky Dean's entertainment center.

The sophomores still have many activities and sports to look forward to as the year goes on. Hayden Swan stated, however, "I'm ready for school to be done so I can get back to football." Good luck to the students in the remainder of their sophomore year.

The seventh grade girls show their excitement to get dressed up and have the dance after all.

Eighth graders Blanche Eckard and Olivia McQuinn add some fun accessories to their fancy attire.

Alternate JH Dance

By Reagan Heyde
Staff Reporter

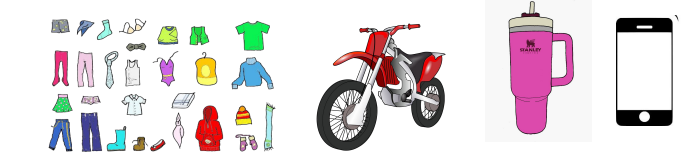

At the beginning of December, all of the junior high students were preparing for their first/last junior high dance. After much effort to buy suits and dresses, find a date, and decide which cologne to overspray, students were unfortunately informed that the dance was postponed during the 7th hour the day of. The internet had gone out in Stanberry (for those AT&T subscribers) and the staff were worried the students would not be able to contact their parents and stream music.

Upon receiving this news, the junior high moms decided to throw their own little ball in the local coffee shop and event space, 3 Point Coffee. They invited Dr. Davison and a textcaster was sent out to parents of junior high students. Stanberry's local band "Railway," came to treat the students to some live music and good vibes.

Seventh grader Harper Heyde stated, "It was a lot of fun, and I'm glad we got to have it." The junior high students had a blast and were very glad to have gotten another opportunity to dance the night away. The school-affiliated junior high dance was rescheduled for January 6th.

What Students Want for Christmas

By Maranda Evans
Staff Reporter

Santa and his elves are going to have a very busy few weeks up at the North Pole putting the finishing touches on Christmas. Looking at the request coming in from our students, it looks like they have their work cut out for them.

This year the popular presents are quite the range from a turtle all the way to a new truck. High school students are mainly asking for clothes, shoes, and truck parts. The junior high students are asking for clothes, shoes, Stanley cups, dirtbikes, and ice makers. Elementary students are hoping for Stanley cups, phones, makeup, RC cars, and puppies.

Now that Santa and his elves have the requests in, they can start loading up the sleigh to deliver to all the little boys and girls that have been good this year. If you, like Santa, are still looking for gifts for children up to 18 here are some great ideas! Merry Christmas!

NFL Recap: Weeks 11-14

By Kaiden Keough
Staff Reporter

Welcome back to my NFL recap, thank you for spending your time on last month's NFL recap. Let's get started rehashing the past 4 weeks of NFL action.

Week 11

Lions vs Bears

The Lions struggled at the start with Jared Goff throwing 2 interceptions, but they came back and won the game. The final score was Bears 26, Lions 31. The Lions will play the Packers in Week 12.

Texans vs Cardinals

CJ Stroud is so good. However, in this game, CJ threw 3 interceptions. On a positive note, he had 2 passing touchdowns and 336 passing yards. Let's talk about Tank Dell, who had 149 receiving yards and 1 receiving touchdown. The final score was Texans 21, Cardinals 16. The Texans will play the Jaguars next.

Eagles vs Chiefs

I was very disappointed with the Chiefs because their wide receivers dropped the ball at crucial moments. For example, Marquez Valdes-Scantling was wide open and he dropped the ball. Additionally, Travis Kelce fumbled the ball. The final score was Eagles 21, Chiefs 17. The Chiefs will play the Raiders in Week 12.

Week 12

Lions vs Packers

What can I say? The Lions struggled in this game. Jared Goff, the Lions' quarterback, had 2 passing touchdowns, but he struggled with his throws. The final score was Packers 29, Lions 22. The Lions will play the Saints in Week 13.

Texans vs Jaguars

Welcome back to the CJ Stroud show, and in this episode, CJ lost to the Jags. CJ had 2 passing touchdowns and 1 rushing touchdown, but they still lost. The final score was Jaguars 24, Texans 21. The Texans will play the Broncos in Week 13.

Chiefs vs Raiders

Mahomes had a game with 2 passing touchdowns and 298 passing yards, but there isn't much else to say about this game. The final score was Chiefs 31, Raiders 17. The Chiefs will play the Packers in Week 13.

Week 13

Cowboys vs Seahawks

This game was a close and exciting one. DK Metcalf, the wide receiver for the Seahawks, had a great game with 3 touchdowns and 134 receiving yards. However, his effort couldn't secure the win. Dak Prescott also had a good game with 3 passing touchdowns and 299 passing yards. The final score was Seahawks 35, Cowboys 41. The Cowboys will play the Eagles in Week 14.

Dolphins vs Commanders

The Dolphins dominated the Commanders in this game. It was such a one-sided affair that the final score was lopsided. Tua Tagovailoa had a game with 2 passing touchdowns and 280 yards, but there isn't much else to say. The final score was Dolphins 45, Commanders 15. The Dolphins will play the Titans in Week 14.

Chargers vs Patriots

This game was low-scoring, and only one team managed to score. The final score was Chargers 6, Patriots 0. The Chargers will play the Broncos in Week 14.

Week 14

Vikings vs Raiders

Another low-scoring game. The final score was Vikings 3, Raiders 0. The Raiders will play the Chargers in Week 15.

Broncos vs Chargers

The Chargers' season came to an end with their star quarterback, Justin Herbert, getting injured in this game. The Broncos took control and won the game. The final score was Broncos 24, Chargers 7. The Chargers will play the Raiders in Week 15.

Saints vs Panthers

The Saints dominated the Panthers in this game, with Derek Carr throwing 2 passing touchdowns. The final score was Saints 28, Panthers 6. The Saints will play the Giants in Week 15.

Thank you for reading my NFL recap.

Video Game Review: Overwatch 2

By Wyatt Taylor
Staff Reporter

This month the game I chose is one I've been playing since it was first released: Overwatch 2. Overwatch is a PvP game where you and five other people fight against another team of six. In order to win the match, you and your team have to complete certain tasks depending on the match type.

There is the escort mode, where you have to guide a payload to the finish line while the opposing team tries to stop you. Then there is capture the point, where both teams compete to secure a point for victory. The third game mode, and my least favorite, is flashpoint, which is similar to capture the point, but with three points to capture and a faster capture rate.

You have access to nearly 40 characters, with more being released every few seasons. Each character has their own unique role and abilities. The roles are divided into support, DPS, and tank. Tanks are responsible for absorbing damage and acting as the front line, often posing the biggest threat on the team. DPS characters are usually tasked with eliminating weaker opponents and supporting the survivability of their teammates. Supports are the lifeline of the team; if they go down, the team suffers. They are responsible for keeping the team alive through various means, such as providing temporary immortality or pulling teammates towards them.

In addition to the usual quick play mode, you also have access to competitive mode after playing a certain number of matches. By completing competitive matches, you can earn special currency that can be used to buy a golden version of your weapon. After winning five matches, you will receive a rank ranging from bronze to top 500, which means you are one of the 500 best players in your region.

There are other modes like Arcade, which offer fun and unique game modes. My personal favorite is total mayhem. If you enjoy first-person PvP shooter games, I definitely recommend Overwatch 2 to those who share that interest.

By Kaiden Keough
Staff Reporter

How The Grinch Stole Christmas is one of my favorite Christmas movies because Jim Carrey, my favorite actor of all time, brought his unique talent to the role. Mr. Carrey made the Grinch his own character with his exceptional acting, and the songs in the movie, especially Cindy Lou Who's rendition of "Where Are You

How the Grinch Stole Christmas
Available on Amazon Prime

Christmas," struck a different chord with me.

In my opinion, this movie is a perfect 10/10.
