Learning in Action: A Look Inside the Third Grade Classroom

By Lindsey Hailey
Staff Reporter

This year, the third-grade classes are taught by Mrs. Shelbi Luke and Mrs. Rachel Lane. Both teachers have done a wonderful job guiding their students through a busy first semester. Mrs. Lane shared, "The best part of my class so far is getting to learn each of their personalities and the things they love doing! I enjoy that they get along well, love to ask questions to deepen the conversation, and are willing to help anyone at any time. I am looking forward to seeing each student grow academically, seeing their ideas for upcoming science projects, and going on field trips with them."

The students have successfully completed the first semester and are ready to tackle new challenges in the third quarter. Current units of study include weather and climate, division, possessives, and opinion writing. On January 7, the classes went on a "weather walk" to make observations for their science unit. In math, students have been using counters as manipulatives to build a stronger understanding of division.

Last quarter, the third graders learned about adaptations; students even camouflaged paper butterflies to blend into the classroom environment and completed several science experiments.

Looking ahead, the students will design and create tornado shelters and levees for their science unit. They will also test magnets and design their own magnetic experiments. When asked about his favorite part of the year and his future goals, third grader Sawyer Gibson stated, "Challenges in learning, getting good grades, and being a straight-A student." This group of third graders has already accomplished so much, and they have an exciting road ahead!

Freshman Focus: Settling into the Bulldog Life

By Olivia McQuinn
Staff Reporter

The freshman class has been busy settling into high school life over the past semester. During their first few months, students had the opportunity to join organizations such as FFA, FCCLA, and FBLA. Both FCCLA and FBLA hosted field trips that allow freshmen to participate for the first time. Freshman Class sponsor and FCCLA advisor Mrs. Meyer noted, "They are a fun group and they are learning how to be more independent and engaged in school activities."

In FFA, new members attended the Greenhand Conference in Maryville as well as the Hundley-Whaley event in Albany. They also participated in dairy cattle judging at Northwest Missouri State University (NWMSU) in October. Reflecting on the transition to high school, Kaitlyn Van Draska commented, "Freshman year has been very slow, but stressful."

In addition to clubs, students stayed active in fall sports including golf, softball, and football. This quarter, many are now participating in cheer, basketball, or wrestling. Good luck to the Class of 2029 for the remainder of the year!

Stanberry Greenhands are shown with the State FFA Officers after the conference.

FFA Greenhands Attend Conference

By Allie Schieber
Staff Reporter

The 2025-26 Stanberry FFA Greenhand members—including Kaitlyn Van Draska, Emily SantaCruz, Jayden Wilson, Charlotte Jennings, Baylee Albright, Addison Graham, Zoey Chambers, Kylee Runde, Harper Heyde, Madison Wilmes, Jax Davis, Kenyon Affuso, Sam Simbro, Zach Welch, Drake Ginther, Quinn Jensen, Paxton

Schieber, Lucian Simmerman, Kaleb Evans, Zander Heyde, and Luke Phipps—attended the Greenhand Motivational Conference (GMC) on January 9, 2026. The event was held at the Northwest Missouri State University Agricultural Learning Center in Maryville, Missouri.

During the conference, students met Area and State FFA Officers and participated in engaging small-group workshops designed to introduce them to leadership and involvement within FFA. One hands-on activity challenged students to build a tower, symbolizing the importance of creating a strong and steady foundation for their Supervised Agricultural Experience (SAE) projects.

Stanberry is proud to have its own Area Officer, Dani Van Draska, who traveled with the Greenhand members to Maryville. She played an active role throughout the day, helping lead small groups and guiding students through activities. Reflecting on the experience, Dani shared, “The Greenhand Motivational Conference was so good this year! It was exciting to see all the new FFA members in our area who are ready to learn more about FFA and grow their leadership skills!”

To wrap up the day, students enjoyed dinner in the Hy-Vee dining area, where they relaxed, bonded, and shared plenty of laughs. FFA Chapter Advisor Korrine Noble also reflected on the event, stating, “I feel like GMC is always a good way to get FFA members started and excited about the opportunities available to them!”

Overall, the Conference provided a meaningful experience for new members, encouraging them to explore their interests, develop leadership skills, and take advantage of the many opportunities FFA has to offer.

Lady Dawgs Clinch 1st Place Finish in Tournament

The Stanberry Invitational Basketball Tournament took place from January 12th to January 17th. Participating teams for both the boys and girls brackets included Albany, Worth County, North Nodaway, Northeast Nodaway, Platte Valley, North Andrew, King City, and Stanberry. Worth County earned the top seed for the boys, while Albany took the top spot for the girls.

The Lady Bulldogs' championship run opened the tournament on Monday with a 45-37 victory over North Andrew. Kynzee Adcock was named Player of the Game, scoring 16 points and shooting a perfect 4-for-4 from the free-throw line. On Thursday, the girls faced Worth County for the third time this season. Despite trailing in the previous two matchups, Stanberry came out strong and put the past behind them. In a pivotal 61-42 win that secured their spot in the championship, the team played with high energy and aggression. Kynzee Adcock again earned Player of the Game honors with an impressive 28 points, going 10-for-10 from the line.

In Saturday's championship game, Stanberry faced Albany. Having defeated them by only four points in the regular season, the Lady Bulldogs knew it would be an intense battle. Although Albany scored first, Stanberry remained composed. Following Coach Wendt's philosophy of playing hard through all four quarters, the team maintained their defensive intensity until the final buzzer. The Lady Bulldogs claimed the championship title with a 52-43 victory. Ellie Dias was named Player of the Game for her defensive pressure and for being the team's second-leading scorer.

Head Coach Taylor Wendt reflected on the successful week: "We had a tough conference loss the week prior, but we didn't let that get in the way of our goals. Winning our home tournament has been a goal since the start of the season. The girls are putting in immense work at practices and Sunday open gyms. Our first round was a tough third meeting against North Andrew, followed by a long-overdue win against Worth County. After struggling offensively against them just six days prior, we scored 61 points—our second-highest total of the season. We had three players in double digits, and it was a true team effort." Wendt added, "Going into the final against Albany, we had a lot of momentum. We had a big stretch in the fourth quarter to build a 15-point lead. I am very proud of how the girls played and look forward to carrying this momentum into conference play. Go Bulldogs, Never Give Up!"

The Stanberry boys opened play on Monday against North Andrew. Despite a hard-fought effort, they came up short with a final score of 39-50. This moved them to a Wednesday matchup against North Nodaway, where the Bulldogs played with high energy and secured a dominant 48-16 win. Pax Schieber was named Player of the Game with 10 points and 4 steals. Schieber noted, "We played hard as a team and brought the energy right away. We knew we had to win tonight to keep playing this week, so we got it done."

In the consolation final the boys faced Albany. They remained competitive throughout the contest but were unable to pull ahead, falling 43-54. The Stanberry boys finished the tournament in 6th place. Good luck to both Bulldogs teams as they head into districts in a few weeks!
